THURSDAY, DECEMBER 22.

The attitude of the Republican party of New Mexico has always been consistent on the question of the admission of the territory as a state. We favored the admission of the territory when the Democratic party was united in their opposition against it. We still favor its admission, believing that there is no good and substantial reason for keeping us out of the Union as a state and believe that this can best be accomplished by the election of a delegate to congress who is in harmony with Republican politics and principles.-Republican Platform, New Mexico, 1898.

If the war between the sugar and coffee trusts continues much longer there may be tears shed, but not by the con-

The free silver papers of Colorado seem to feel sorry that the big strike in a gold mine at Dawson camp was made before the election of 1900,

Judging from the comments in east ern newspapers, Colonel Roosevelt is eausing the machine politicians of New York many sleepless nights. The winter of 1898-9 will long be remembered as a severe one by Empire party bosses and chronic office holders.

After a careful count of noses in the Nevada legislature, Uncle Stewart is very much discouraged over the future of the country. So far only 17 of the members-elect of the legislature have been found who express any desire to return him to the senate for the fifth

The statesmen of Europe are showing much concern over the direful results the annexation of the Philippine islands will bring to the United States. They are sorry that many quarrels and possibly armed conflicts will arise out of such a step on the part of this country and that the people of this country will never again enjoy the isolation and peace they did before the war with Spain. Every one has heard the stor; of the fox and the grapes

The matter of revising the laws governing the assessment of property and the collection of taxes by the 33d legis lative assembly is attracting much at tention throughout the territory. Every one recognizes the necessity for legislation which will equalize assessments, prevent escaping from the assessors and making the payment of taxes compulsory and certain. The members of the legislature have it within their grasp to gain the everlasting good opinion of the whole people and to place the counties and territory in a position where revenues sufficient to pay current expenses and pay off the outstanding indebtedness may be collected without any great amount trouble, and distribute the burden in such a manner that it will bear no harder on these who now pay their taxes promptly.

Recently a number of farmers at Loveland, Colo., shipped their beet crop to the sugar factory at Grand Island. Neb., for treatment, and the result of the experiment exceeded all expectations. The price received for the beets was $4.60 per ton, the freight charges were $2.25 per ton, leaving the growers $2.25 for the beets. The average of sugar in the beets was about 16 per cent. which, when it is considered that average was made in carload lots, makes a good showing for Colorado beets. Experiments made in and around Santa Fe the past two years have proven that sugar beets raised in Santa Fe county are richer in sugar content than those shipped to the factory by the Colorado farmers, and there is no reason why Santa Fe should not have a sugar factory. Land, water, sunshine and labor are all here ready for the enterprise and concerted action on the part of the property owners and business men will secure the necessary capital for the purpose. No other industry that could be established will bring as large returns or add to the wealth and population of the county as a sugar factory,

Usual Democratic Mulishness.

A notable feature of the new policy of obstruction by the Democratic party seems to be that the regular army shall not be increased, and that the volunteers shall be mustered out whether there is anybody to take their places or not. According to the law, as it now stands, the regular army is only what it was before the Spanish-American war, for the increase to 61,000 men was to terminate with the war. Were this policy to be carried out, to 30,000 men would be left the task of garrisoning the American West Indies, the Philippine islands and the sea coast, frontier and other posts of the United States proper, a manifestly impossible task. The stand taken by Congressman Railey and his following is no doubt to embarrass the administration at the risk of inflicting a grievous injury on be turned down without delay. seary logislation through congres ooking towards increasing the size of he regular forces of the United States but not beyond what the exigencies of the situation absolutely demand; and until there is positive assurance that this needed legislation will be passed. it is hardly safe to make much of a re duction in the volunteer forces; and the longer the Democrats maintain senseless opposition, the longe will the volunteer be forced to live it amps, on bacon and hard tack, when he might be at home eating at his own table and attending to his business interests that have long been neglected.

The Fergusson Enabling Act.

On December 15, Delegate Ferguss ntroduced a bill in the house of repr entatives, the first section of which "He it enacted by the senate and ouse of representatives of the United States of America in congress assemled. That the inhabitants of all that art of the area of the United States ow constituting the territory of New Mexico, at present described, may beome the state of New Mexico, as hereafter provided."

Mr. Fergusson's bill for statehood for New Mexico differs from the one introiuced by Senator Elkins in the senate, n only one or two particulars, the only mportant difference being in the basis f representation in the constitutional onvention. Mr. Elkins' bill provides hat the convention shall consist of 81 elegates, based upon a population of ,900 for each delegate according to the ast census made by the Undited States, of New Mexico; Mr. Fergusson's bill provides for a convention of 78 delegates, "based upon a population of 2,000 or each delegate according to the last inhabitants therein." Mr. Fergusson's basis of representa-ion makes the following changes in the number of delegates, as fixed by Mr. Elkins' bill: Bernalillo county, nine delegates in place of 11: Mora county. six in place of five; San Miguel, nine in place of ten; Taos, six in place of five, and Valencia, five in place of even. There is no doubt but Mr. Fergusson has fixed his basis of represenation in the manner he has with thhopes of giving his party some alerntage over the Republicans in the concention, but as a good Domo cat trat s a part of his duty, and no one can find much fault with him for that. However, in the light of the last election, that matter will make but little difference to the Republicans.

The main thing to be accomplished is o secure the passage of one or the other of the bills now in congress. With the bill passed and become a law, the people of the territory can hold the constitutional convention some time the coming summer, the constitution may be prepared, and the election for the adoption or rejection of that constituion held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1899. The prospects for statehood at the present time are very encouraging, and if the of the vote in congress.

Business Conditions Changing.

Rusiness conditions of the country. judging from opinions expressed by men prominent in financial and manufacturing circles, are undergoing a change which in a large degree is unexpected. Heretofore the month of Deember has always been characterized by a sharp falling off in the volume of business transacted, as compared with other months of the year, and business men in the wholesale and producing lines devoted that month to pulling themselves together for the coming

The present month has been an exception to the rule so marked as to call business men. The anticipation of a boom in January, which is general, has resulted in extending operations in all lines of trade, particularly where exports are concerned. Efforts are making to extend the trade of the United States into countries which have here tofore been almost entirely closed to American goods, and the year 1899 will witness a remarkable growth in the exports of this country to foreign lands.

The exports for November amounted in round numbers, to $130,000,000, the largest in the history of the nation, for any one month, and it is estimated that the total of the exports for the year just closing will reach the enormous sum of $1,300,000,000. For the year ending November 30, the United States exported. in excess of imports, products amounting to $611,300,000, and there is now a large balance in favor of America in European countries, which must sooner or later come across the waters in the form of gold dollars. In addition to this enormous foreign trade, the demand for goods of all kinds is constantly increasing. The population is rapidly growing, and it is estimated that within the next ten years there will be 100,000,000 people in the United States who will have to be clothed and fed. The effect of the consumptive powers of a population of that number upon all business can readily be understood. Taking everything into consideration, the predictions which have been made the past year that the United States was entering upon an era of unprecedented activity and prosperity, are sure of fulfillment. In speaking of the effect of the American-Spanish war upon the future of this country, Henry Clews, the well known banker of New York, in the weekly circular letter issued by his house, says: "The effect of the American-Spanish war is going to be further reaching than even dreamers of America's destiny have ever pictured. It will in the end lead to a commercial revolution amongst the nations. As a result of the war we have gained the Philippine islands and thereby made the Pacific ocean of vastly more importance to us than it otherwise could have been. It gives us a front door entrance to China and Asia for the distribution of our products and manufactured goods which in time will be superior to that of our European competitors. Our great the nation, and these gentlemen should railroads now center at Chicago, which place has been made important through sped almost abnormally only certain next great developments will not be chere the takes are located, but will be between ocean and ocean-from the Atlantic to the Pacific-which will make the railroads that span that territory the great highways of the world. The result of the war must force the building of the Panama and Nicaragua canais in the interests of this country, and when completed they will make the 'aribbean sea the rendezvous of the orld's commerce, as they will furnish y far the nearest and cheapest mode of ransportation to supply the 800,000,000 people at the eastern side of the Paifie. The Atlantic and Pacific oceans and the Caribbean sen together are go ng to be more important in our future grogress of development than can be magined by the most enthuslastic."

PRESS COMMENTS.

Albuquerque Democrat. The Las Vegas Optic has a long and ather foggy article on the action of the cerritorial secretary in awarding contracts for certain government printing it Santa Fe a few days ago. From the tenor of the Optic's article one might gain the impression that there was more or less crookedness or favoritism in the manner in which the bids were considered and the contracts let. But the Democrat, having been a bidder on the occasion referred to, and having failed by the trifling sum of $14.50 to secure the contract, feels it to be its duty to say, in justice to Secretary Wallace, as well as to the successful bidder, that everything was done in the fairest and squarest manner possible. The Democrat lost the work simply because its bids were a few dollars higher than census in New Mexico made by the that of the New Mexican. All of its United States, exclusive of Indians, and contentions were conceded and there ne delegate for a fraction of over 1,566 was not the slightest disposition shown upon the part of the secretary to do anything that was not perfectly fair and right. So far as the Optic was concerned it was scarcely "in it" at all. Its figures were so much above those of the Democrat and the New Mexican that it was really not a competitor.
